ANZAC CENTENARY SOCK KNITTING

During the course of the First World War, Australians knitted over 1 million pairs of socks for the troops. This class has been introduced to commemorate the efforts of the volunteers involved in the war effort. From 1916-18 the Art, Craft & Cookery Competition, then known as Womens' Industries, included the Red Cross Division. Each of the classes in this section were for items to assist the troops and ranged from socks and mittens to balaclavas and cholera belts.
