FORTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COUNCIL
ROYAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY OF VICTORIA.

TO THE MEMBERS.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, —

Your Council has pleasure in presenting the following report of proceedings of the Society for the year 1919:—

Permanent Buildings and Works.

During the year a further section of the permanent improvement scheme that was inaugurated some years ago was undertaken, the major portion of the work being confined to the extreme end of the grounds adjacent to the Flemington Racecourse platform.

The main building that was erected during the year was a particularly commodious one for the exhibition of poultry. The pavilion, which is constructed of brick, is 240 feet in length by 100 feet in width, and is beautifully lighted and ventilated by thousands of glass louvres. This was the first building of any size on the grounds to be erected on the day-labour principle under the supervision of the Society's permanent staff, and the results were entirely satisfactory, for not only were the building operations conducted in a more satisfactory manner, but there was a saving over the architects' estimates of £462. The total cost of this building, inclusive of the benching, was £5634.

Since the Show this building has been leased for the storage of wool, but prior to its being handed over to the tenants, the whole floor space was asphalted. This work was also carried out by the Society's staff.

In order to provide accommodation for the superintendents of the various sections, a compact and ornate suite of offices was erected between the sheep and swine pavilions. The general design and suitability of this little building was favourably commented upon during the Show.

The Swine Pavilion was improved by the erection of a new end to the building, and an artistic balcony verandah. This work has added greatly to the general appearance of the whole of the south-western corner of the grounds. Other small superintendents' offices were erected in convenient positions throughout the grounds. Seats and a guard-rail were provided in the Chiraside Grandstand. Additional sets of steps were constructed for the arena ramps, and the whole of the arena track channel was relaid in concrete. The ventilation in the No. 1 Section of the Sheep Pavilion was improved by the removal of portion of an outer wall and the erection of a protecting verandah.

Many additional lawns and rockeries were laid out throughout the grounds, and on the works specified, together with a great number of minor improvements, the sum of £9338 19. 8d. was expended during the year.

The Council has already authorised the carrying out of a further section of the improvement scheme for the coming year. These works include the erection of the largest cattle pavilion on the grounds, the building of a very artistic alfresco tea room, the roofing of the Cliff grandstand, the rebuilding of the cloak room, the erection of protective barriers at ticket windows and exit gates, and a number of other minor improvements.

The Exhibition.

The annual exhibition was held from the 22nd to the 27th of September. The prize schedule was again carefully revised, and many additional classes were added. Another phenomenally heavy entry was received, the non-competitive stands throughout the grounds were satisfactorily filled, fine weather prevailed during the whole of the week, the aggregate attendances easily constituted a record for the Society, and, taken as a whole, the exhibition was probably the most successful the Society has yet held.

The attendances aggregated 205,539, as against a previous record of 184,637, established in 1913, the gate money, including £1848/15/9 from the grandstands, amounted to £9838/13/11, being £1647/6/11 in excess of the highest amount previously taken.

For the purposes of comparison, the following tables are published to show the number of entries in the several sections for the last two years.

Non-Competitive Entries	2,245	2,173
				10,395	10,166

It will be observed that there was a large increase in the number of entries in the horse sections, this being particularly the case in the section for Clydesdales, where the competition was much keener than it has been for many years past.

Notwithstanding additional restrictions imposed in the cattle sections another very heavy entry was made, and it is gratifying to note, by the judges' remarks, that the general standard of quality throughout the Show was evidently well maintained, even though the entry was so large.

In some of the younger classes in the dairy cattle sections, however, many animals were forwarded for sale purposes only, and in order to relieve future congestion in the accommodation at the grounds, it has been decided to place further restrictions upon the number of entries to be made in these classes, as well as making provision for a second sale of pure stock earlier in the year.

Interest in the "Weekly Times" Butter Fat Test was well maintained, but this competition does not yet receive the amount of support that the Council expected.

There was a consensus of opinion that the general standard of excellence of the sheep exhibited in 1919 had never previously been attained. When it is also taken into consideration that the entries in this section were greater than at any previous exhibition, keen satisfaction must be expressed that the position of the pure stock breeding industry of the State, at least from the sheep point of view, is on such a satisfactory basis.

Fleeces were again benched in the Government Pavilion, and year by year this section is undoubtedly increasing in popularity. From an educational point of view, it is also all that can be desired.

The steps that were taken to reduce the number of entries in the swine section were entirely satisfactory. A much smaller entry was received, and consequently every exhibit secured comfortable accommodation in the commodious pavilion that has been provided.

One of the features of the Show was undoubtedly the magnificent display of poultry. The exhibits were staged in such a manner that visitors from far and wide expressed the opinion that they had never seen poultry displayed to better advantage. The only drawback in this building was that in certain busy periods a fair amount of dust was raised from the tan bark on the floor, but this will be entirely eliminated in future, as already the whole floor space has been well asphalted.

Pigeons were exhibited under most favourable conditions, there being a total absence of crowding. The new pens that had been provided met with the entire satisfaction of exhibitors.

A very large entry had been received in the dog section, and nearly half of the exhibits had to be benched in a marquee at the back of the pavilion.

The Council trusts that the provision of extended accommodation for these exhibits will be possible in the near future.

Undoubtedly one of the features of the Show was the magnificent display of produce by the five Agricultural Societies that entered for the district competitions. These exhibits reached a very high standard indeed, and they were the centre of admiring crowds from the opening to the closing of the Agricultural Hall on every day of the Show.

The entries of farm and dairy produce were not so large as in 1918, but it is pleasing to note that the quality of the exhibits evidently met with the approval of the judges.

Wines, which had almost disappeared from the catalogue in 1918, were again exhibited in large numbers, and in this section the judges report that the steady improvement noted in previous years has been maintained.

The exhibition of women's industries is still gaining in popularity, and this year the display, taken as a whole, was larger and more comprehensive than on any former occasion.

The arena events were particularly well contested, and it is pleasing to note that during the whole Show they were practically free from accidents of a serious character.

The sheep dog trials have attained a great amount of public interest, the finals on the last day of the Show being very closely watched by a large and interested crowd.

The machinery and industrial exhibits again practically covered every available space on the grounds, the outstanding feature being undoubtedly the large number of mechanical aids that are now being made available for the use of the "Man on the Land."

Your Council desires to congratulate the standholders generally not only upon the fine manner in which the exhibits were displayed, but on the improvements made during the year in connection with the private buildings that are erected throughout the grounds.

Draught Horse Stud Book of Australia.

The indifferent market for draught stock has no doubt been the reason for the small number of entries received for the Stud Book during the year. There was, however, quite a number of registrations of colts and fillies just prior to the last Show, which indicated a partial revival in the demand for draught stock, and it is pleasing to note that at the latter end of the year prices showed a very appreciable rise, and it is therefore anticipated that a greater interest will be taken by breeders in consequence, and that registrations will be brought up to date during the coming year.

Owing to several members of the staff having been affected during the influenza epidemic, and also on account of the delays in negotiations for an amalgamation of the two Stud Books, it was found impossible to publish the revised edition of Volumes I. to IX. during the year, but copies will be available for distribution in February next.

The conference of representatives of both Stud Books, which it was proposed to hold in Sydney early in the year, was abandoned on account of the cancellation of the Sydney Show, and the restrictions on Inter-State travelling. The inability of representatives of the Australian Clydesdale Horse Society to visit Melbourne, either during the Society's Horse Parade in July or the Show in September, necessitated a further postponement of the conference which is to consider the amalgamation proposals, until the forthcoming Show in Sydney, when it is hoped that some mutually satisfactory agreement can be arrived at whereby the Commonwealth Clydesdale Horse Society will be able to undertake the reception of entries for the early publication of the first volume of the Commonwealth Clydesdale Stud Book.

Numerous enquiries have from time to time been received as to the probable date of the publication of Volume X. of the Draught Horse Stud Book of Australia. The publication of this volume has been delayed owing to an arrangement arrived at that any animals entered for Volume II. of the Australian Clydesdale Stud Book or Volume X. of the Draught Horse Stud Book of Australia would, if found eligible, be included in the first volume of the Commonwealth Clydesdale Stud Book without further expense to their owners.

It will therefore not be possible to undertake the publication of this volume until after the conference in Sydney.

Your Council desires to acknowledge with appreciation the valuable and continuous services rendered by Lieut.-Colonel E. T. Campbell in extending the pedigrees of horses that were registered in the earlier volumes of the Stud Book, as well as for placing at the disposal of the Society's staff his valuable records of pedigrees, which date back to the earliest importations to Australia.

Flock Book for British Breeds of Sheep in Australia.

Volumes of the Flock Book are now published annually, Volume XI. being issued in May last. It contained the annual returns for 1918 of 337 flocks previously registered, together with the histories and particulars of 81 new flocks which had been accepted for registration since the publication of the previous volume.

As is usual, several flocks have dropped out, either through dispersal or neglect on the part of their owners to furnish the particulars required by the Committee.

Every effort is made to have the information published in the Flock Book correct in every particular, and the increased sales of each succeeding volume is proof of the book's usefulness to stud masters and other interested persons.

A large number of entries are in hand for the volume which is to be published in May next, and it is anticipated that many more applications will be received before the copy is handed to the printer.

The annual meeting of owners of registered flocks was held in July, and was well attended. Mr. George Jeffrey, Chairman of the Technical Committee of the Central Wool Committee, delivered a very interesting address upon the operations of the Wool Pool, and at its conclusion was accorded a very hearty vote of thanks.

Various items of interest to flock owners were discussed, amongst the most important being the proposed re-opening of the Australian Longwool Flock Book. It was resolved that the Longwool Sheep Breeders' Association should be asked to hold over the acceptance of any flocks which it might be proposed to accept until a conference could be held between the representatives of both bodies.

This Conference was held in Melbourne during Show Week, and the proposed action of the Australian Longwool Sheep Breeders' Association was explained to the satisfaction of the representatives of this Flock Book.

The recommendation made by the Flock Book Committee, and adopted by your Council, to erect honor boards, on which the names of the winning sires in the four Longwool Sections at the Royal Show could be recorded, was duly carried out. These honor boards were displayed in the sheep sheds during the Show, and were much admired. As was also resolved by the Flock Book Committee, £5/5/- was paid out of the Flock Book funds, as a special prize, to the owner of the winning sires in each of the abovementioned sections.

Shorthorn Herd Book of Australia.

Since the publication of Volume I. of the Shorthorn Herd Book of Australia early last year, the work of revising and extending the pedigrees of animals submitted for registration in Volume II. has been in hand, and it is expected that it will be possible to have this volume ready for distribution just prior to next Easter. This volume is to contain the pedigrees of a number of animals from families not represented in Volume I., as well as a large number of animals which were shown as progeny only in Volume I.

Your Council again desires to place on record its keen appreciation of the services of Mr. D. C. Morpeth, the editor, who personally examines every entry submitted for registration, as well as attending to all matters connected with the compilation of the Herd Book.

The Ayrshire Cattle Herd Book Society of Australasia.

It is now the practice to publish a copy of this Herd Book annually, and Volume XI., for which entries closed in February, was printed and circulated in May last. The volume, although not so large as that previously published, contained the pedigrees of nearly 2000 animals, all of which were numbered, there being no appendix for short-pedigreed females, as in previous volumes.

A further increase in the number of members, and also in the number of registered stud affixes and prefixes, is shown in the lists published in the new volume. A large number of entries is already in hand for Volume XII., and it is expected that many more will be received before the 1st February, which is the closing date for entries in that volume.

The annual meeting of members of this Society, held on the Show Grounds in September, was largely attended, and many matters of importance were keenly discussed.

After the annual report and balance-sheet had been received, and the office-bearers for the ensuing year elected, consideration was given to the formation and upkeep of branches in other States. It was finally decided to raise the member's subscription to £1/1/- per annum, and to increase the fee for the registration of stock by non-members to 10/- per head, and to refund to the branch in any State, for the purposes of furthering the interests of the breed, half of the amount of subscriptions received from members of the Society resident in that State.

A very spirited discussion took place in connection with a proposal that, in addition to the pedigree register, a register of tested cows be published in the Herd Book, the standard to be that of the official standards obtaining in the several States, and a motion to that effect was, on being put to the meeting, defeated by 23 votes to 20.

The question of testing has been before the annual meetings of the Society for several years in succession, and those in favor have expressed their firm intention of persevering until the testing of cattle is officially recognised and supported by the Society, and the fact that there are now 27 Ayrshire herds being tested under the Government scheme would seem to warrant their expectations of early success.

The Australasian Jersey Herd Society (Victorian Branch).

The Committee of this branch has in no way relaxed its efforts to further the interests of the Jersey breed in Victoria, and has been rewarded during the year by a very satisfactory increase in the number of members, as well as in the entries received for publication in the Herd Book.

The firm attitude taken in connection with the observation of the rules and regulations has resulted in the registration by Victorian breeders of a large number of stud affixes and prefixes, and tattoos and fire brands, as well as a more regular and full registration of calves.

The pedigrees of nearly 300 bulls and cows and 350 calves were forwarded from Victoria for inclusion in Volume VII. of the Herd Book, copies of which, it is hoped, will be available at an early date, and, although entries for Volume VIII. have not yet closed (owing to an extension granted by the Federal Council on account of the delay in publishing Volume VII.), an even greater number of entries is already in hand for that volume.

The Victorian Committee has, during the year, given a great deal of consideration to ways and means of improving the unsatisfactory conditions obtaining in connection with the publication of the volumes of the Herd Book, and it is hoped that, as a result of an Interstate conference, held in Melbourne at Show time, an improvement in the conditions will soon be achieved.

The branch has undertaken to pay £50 per annum to the Royal Agricultural Society for secretarial services, and the financial position of the branch, as indicated in the audited balance-sheet published at the end of the financial year, and showing a credit balance of £216/11/11, of which sum £101/18/11 stood to the actual credit of the branch, was very favorably commented upon.

Two special prizes of £5 each were awarded in the Jersey Section at the Royal Show for the best heifer and bull in the yearling or two-year-old classes, out of a Government standard Australian-bred cow.

Red Poll Cattle Association of Australasia.

At a meeting of Red Poll breeders, held during the 1918 Show, it was resolved to form an association in Australia, and at a further meeting, held during the recent Show, it was decided to at once proceed with the work of compiling the first volume of the Herd Book. Your Council consented to the secretarial work of the Association being conducted by the Society's staff.

The Friesian Cattle Club of Australia.

At a meeting of breeders of Friesian cattle, held during the recent Show, and attended by representatives of the Council of the Friesian Cattle Club of Australia, it was decided that the Victorian breeders should form a Committee, which would deal with and make recommendations regarding the acceptance of entries from Victoria for registration in the Herd Book. Your Council has also agreed to the secretarial work of this Committee being carried out by the Society's staff.

The Chamber of Agriculture.

The 17th Annual Convention of the Chamber of Agriculture was held at Ballarat on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of July, 1919. In the absence of His Excellency the Governor, through illness, the Convention was officially opened by the State Premier (the Hon. H. S. Lawson, M.L.A.), and was attended by several Cabinet Ministers and other leading politicians, as well as by a large and representative gathering of rural producers from all parts of the State.

The subjects that were listed for discussion were keenly debated, and the papers that were read and the lecturesses that were delivered were productive of valuable discussions.

During the year Mr. G. L. Wilson retired from the position of Society's representative on the Council of the Chamber of Agriculture, and Captain A. E. T. Payne, who occupied this position prior to the war, resumed his old office.

Annual Horse Parade and Sale.

The Annual Horse Parade and Sale, conducted under the auspices of the Society, was held at the Show Grounds on Tuesday and Wednesday, 22nd and 23rd July, 1919. The parade was fairly well attended, and the horses were comfortably accommodated. Of the 94 animals that were entered, only 22 were sold, the average price per head being £3/1/3 less than in 1918. The sale was a very disappointing one, from the seller's point of view, but your Council is hopeful that, now that the war is over, the demand for breeding horses will be renewed, and that prices will revert to those ruling prior to the outbreak of hostilities.

Tractor Trials.

During the week prior to the last Annual Exhibition, trials of motor tractors and other agricultural implements were conducted by the Society at the State Research Farm, Werribee. The demonstrations that were given proved to be of very great interest to the farmers, who were present in good numbers, and, although tabulated results of the tests were not published, the facilities that were provided for displaying the capabilities of the implements were greatly appreciated by all concerned.

Agricultural Scholarships.

In connection with the scholarship scheme which was inaugurated in 1917, whereby the Society makes available, at either Dookie or Longerenong College, three scholarships for the sons of members of the Society, a number of applications were received in January last, and Master H. C. Roberts, who is a son of Mr. Reuben Roberts, of 66 Jenkins-street, Northcote, was awarded the Society's scholarship for the years 1919, 1920 and 1921. It is pleasing to note that Student C. A. E. McLean, who was nominated in 1917, has successfully completed his course.

Membership.

Your Council has pleasure in reporting that during the year 1919 another gratifying increase in the Society's membership was made, the net increase being 356 over last year's figures, which constituted a record up to that period. The total membership now stands at 3256.

Essendon Land Bill.

For several years unsuccessful efforts were made towards securing the closing of that portion of Nyora-street which runs along the north-eastern boundary of the Show Grounds, and thus linking up the present area with the land extending to Epsom-road. Negotiations with interested landholders having failed, the Government introduced the Essendon Land

Bill, the object of which was to enable the Society to close the northern end of Nyora-street, as desired, and to open another road connecting that street with Union-road. The Bill provided that the Society should pay reasonable compensation to the landholders who had rights of carriage way over Nyora-street, and that, failing agreement, the amount would be settled by arbitration. The Bill was submitted to the Legislative Assembly during the last session of Parliament, and was carried through to the third reading, when suggestions were made that the Bill should be held over temporarily in order to give the interested parties a further opportunity of arriving at a satisfactory settlement. As a result of negotiations which extended over several weeks, the Society purchased the Grand National Tower Hotel property for £7,150, the block of land at the corner of Grand National-avenue and Nyora-street for £310/10/-, and also came to an arrangement with the owner of the only cottage in Nyora-street for the payment of compensation for the extinguishment of that owner's rights. When these settlements were reported to the Government, the Bill was speedily passed through the remaining stages in both Houses.

Wool Storage.

Practically every building on the Show Grounds that was suitable for the storage of wool was again leased by the wool-broking firms for storage purposes. During the year a revenue of £3501/5/9 was derived from this source, and, as the leases extend well into the new year, a further welcome addition to the Society's revenue will be received.

The Council.

As the nominations for election at the annual meeting were not in excess of the number of vacancies on the Council, there was no poll, and the whole of the members whose seats had become vacant by effluxion of time were declared re-elected.

It is with sincere regret that the death of Mr. John Cooper Rockliff has to be recorded. Mr. Rockliff, who was largely interested in draught horse stock and British breeds of sheep, had been an active member of the Council since 1910. He appeared to be in sound health during the period of the last Show, and within a few days of welcoming his son back from the front he died suddenly at his home at Numurkah. The news of Mr. Rockliff's death caused a wave of regret to spread throughout the Council. The President represented the Society at the deceased gentleman's funeral.

At the November meeting of Council it was resolved to defer until the annual meeting the filling of the vacancy that was caused by Mr. Rockliff's death.

During the year Captain A. E. T. Payne returned from the Old Country, where for several years he had been assisting in administering the activities of the Red Cross Society.

On the first anniversary of the Signing of the Armistice, Major H. A. Currie was warmly welcomed back to the Council table on his return after four years' active service, during which he served the Empire with gallantry and distinction.

Jubilee Show.

The Society's Jubilee Show will be held in 1921, and preliminary arrangements are already in hand for making this exhibition a memorable one in the history of the Society. It is your Council's desire to arrange at this Show working exhibits of a number of industries that are allied to primary production.

The Journal.

The Society's official journal is incorporated with the "Australian Farm and Home," and the latter publication has been forwarded regularly to members of the Society every month during the year. Besides containing the official reports of the Society's operations, this journal contains many articles of educational value, which are of interest to the rural producers of the community; but the Society has no control or supervision over any of these articles that may appear from time to time, and expressions of opinion on political and other questions must, therefore, not necessarily be taken as expressing the views of the Society.

General Activities.

In order to provide facilities for the disposal of young pure bred dairy stock, arrangements have been made for the holding of special sales at the Show Grounds during the month of May next. It is hoped that this arrangement will serve the double purpose of bringing buyers and sellers together at a time of the year when young stock is in demand, and, in addition, will relieve the Society of the necessity of providing so much accommodation at the grounds during the period of the Royal Show.

The Society has, for a considerable period, been endeavoring to evolve a scheme so that the low-grade dairy herds of the State would be improved by the utilisation of pure sires of milk-producing strains.

As a step in this direction, the Council has resolved to do what it can towards encouraging the formation of Herd Testing Societies throughout the State.

There has been a movement for some time to endeavor to arrange for the awards in the Dairy Cattle Sections at the Show to be based upon both type and utility, rather than for type and conformation alone, and, although the Council favored a proposition that the Champion Awards in the dairy classes should not be made to any animal that did not possess a Government Herd Testing Certificate for the year, a conference of breeders, held during the recent Show, expressed the opinion that testing was not yet sufficiently general to warrant so drastic a change in the Society's methods. In deference to the wishes of the breeders, the Council has resolved to take no further action in this matter at present.

In order to encourage better farming methods throughout the State, the Council agreed to allocate £100 per annum for competition amongst the prize-winners of farm contests conducted by country agricultural societies. For this purpose the State has been divided into districts, the competition for 1919 being confined to the Wimmera district.

In connection with these competitions, 100 points are awarded for crops and stock, 100 points for buildings, machinery and equipment, and a further 100 points for the wheat farm considered as a business and as a home. It is hoped that when these contests become more widely known competition will be keen, and an improvement in the methods of farming will result.

Very important movements have taken place during the year in connection with the sale for export of butter and meat, and representatives of your Council have kept in close touch with delegates from kindred organisations in an effort to safeguard the interests of the producers of those valuable commodities.

Acknowledgments.

Your Council desires to extend to His Excellency the Governor-General and Lady Helen Munro Ferguson the Society's warmest appreciation of their interest in the Society's Annual Exhibition, and to His Excellency for awarding a special prize for tent-pegging. It is desired to thank His Excellency the Lieut.-Governor for officially opening the Show, and, together with Lady Irvine, for taking such a keen interest in the operations of the Society.

The Society is indebted to the State Government for continuing the grant of the annual subsidy, for awarding a number of special prizes for competition at the recent Show, and for making the State Research Farm available for conducting the tractor trials. To Mr. H. C. Wilson, the manager of the State Research Farm, the Society's thanks are due for acting as chief steward at the recent tractor trials.

It is desired to express appreciation of the assistance rendered by Professor H. A. Woodruff, Mr. A. E. V. Richardson and Mr. Robert Crowe, for delivering lectures during the recent Show.

The Society is indebted to the judges and stewards for the very efficient manner in which they carried out their arduous duties in connection with the annual Show.

It is desired to acknowledge the Council's appreciation of the liberal support accorded to the Society by the donors to the prize fund.

The Council wishes to express its appreciation of the action of those trading associations that closed their business establishments on the public holiday that has been granted for the Society's annual Shows.

It is also desired to thank the press for the manner in which the Society's operations have been kept prominently before the public, and to all others who assisted in furthering the interests of the Society your Council extends its warmest thanks.

Finance.

Some years ago an arrangement was made whereby the State Government would advance to the Society, by way of loan, the sum of £50,000, for the purpose of making improvements in the buildings at the Show Grounds. The first instalment of this loan was paid in April, 1915. The £50,000 has since been temporarily reduced to £40,000, as £10,000 has been deducted from the original amount to cover the cost of the erection of the Government Pavilion.

The last moieties of this £40,000 will be absorbed by the work which is now in hand, and from thence onwards any improvements that are to be carried out at the grounds must be provided for out of the Society's annual revenue.

The only permanent sources of revenue that are available are the profits in connection with the annual Shows and the Society's membership subscriptions, and even if these are maintained at the very high level that was reached in 1919, when records were established in practically every department of the Show, the Society cannot possibly carry out any future improvements, make any increases in prize money or reduce its bank overdraft unless the revenue is increased very materially.

Interest and sinking fund on the two Government loans will amount to £2,610 per annum.

Owing to recent commitments, the Society's overdraft is likely to average £25,975 during the year, and interest on this overdraft will amount to £1558.

The general maintenance of the Society, which includes insurance premiums, rates, office salaries, general printing, and many sundries, amounts to rather more than £3300 per annum. Owing to the very high cost of materials, and recent increases in the wages of artisans and laborers, the cost of maintenance of the Show Grounds buildings has very largely increased in recent years, and it is anticipated that this high standard of cost will be maintained for some time to come. Maintenance in 1919 cost the Society £2292. Payment for the Society's official journal, office rent and petty expenses account for another £941. These items of expenditure amount to £10,709, and exceed by £219 the revenue derived from the Show profits and the members' subscriptions. The Council, therefore, unwillingly driven to the conclusion that the examples set by the leading Societies in other States must be followed, in the direction of increasing the Society's revenue, and, although no definite policy has yet been adopted in regard to this matter, every effort will be made to distribute the necessary increases as equitably as possible.

Had it not been for the handsome returns derived from the storage of wool your Council would have been compelled to have taken this step at a much earlier period.

On reference to the financial statement it will be seen that the revenue for the year was £31,888/7/2. This amount includes advances by the Government to the extent of £5,359/18/10. Excluding these advances in both cases the revenue for the year shows an increase of £2,879/10/8 on that of last year. The expenditure (including £5,745/7/6 in prizes, £310/10/- in the purchase of land, and £9,338/19/8 for buildings and improvements) amounted to £30,817/14/2, the bank overdraft being reduced from £19,896/8/6 to £18,825/15/6, whilst the Society's indebtedness to the Government, inclusive of interest, has decreased during the year from £39,703/17/6 to £34,750/3/-. The reduction being accounted for by the action of the Government in paying off the cost of the Government Pavilion which amounted to £10,356/16/10.

Taking the expenditure in permanent improvements and the purchase of land as assets, the working expenses show a profit on the year's transactions of £5,360/3/10 as against last year's profit of £3,957/14/1.
