

fect, but his hair was coarser and his skin not so fine as that of his brother. The third prize winner was 5 months old, a good even-bodied pig, not so well marked, and his head a little plain. The first prize boar 4 months or under was a very promising pig, of good type. The second was very little inferior to the winner, whilst the third was a good quality pig, but had rather much white in the face. There were ten entries in the class for sow over 12 months, with litter. They had a total of 81 suckers, average 8.1 per litter. They were a good lot of sows, well above the average. There were some really good pigs in the litters, while some were badly marked with white ears and spots. The first prize and reserve championship went to a long, even sow, with good depth. She was nearly 6 years old, her litter of 10 showed her prolificacy at her age. Second prize went to a sow with 8 young ones—a good type of sow, with rather much white under the jowl. The third sow had ten suckers, some of them specially good. She well deserved her prize. In the class for sow 15 months or over, there were some very choice exhibits. The first and champion was an exceptionally stylish sow, nearly 2 years and 8 months old. She has good length, great depth, fine skin and hair, good head and hams, stood well on her feet, good back, splendid shoulders and good underline; a typical bacon pig, with a specially even temper. Her markings were good, except that the white in her face was a little broken. Her tail is just a trifle low, but she carries it perfectly. She was undoubtedly the champion of the Show. Second prize was won by a very choice sow, 4 years and 5 months old. Third went to a good sow, whose hair was a little coarse, otherwise she was of high quality. There were several other sows worthy of mention, besides the prize winners and those commended. First prize in the class for sow under 15 and over 9 months was awarded to a typical Berkshire, with good head, medium length and good depth. She stood up well on her feet, her tail was just a trifle lower than perfection requires. The second prize sow was a splendid bodied animal, well marked, with fine hair, but just a bit too much snout. The third was a little weak under the neck, but a good bodied pig.

There were 48 entries in the class for sow over 4 and under 9 months. This class was also judged by Mr. John Heard, owing to one of the exhibits being bred by me. Thirty-two sows, 4 months and under, were entered. First prize was awarded to a lengthy, even quality youngster, that should develop into a good brood sow. The second was an attractive sow, of good quality in shape and style, but a white off eyelash told against her in the final. The third was a good bodied sow, well developed, but her front feet were bent back rather much.

For the group prize for boar and two sows, any age, all bred by the exhibitor, there were 11 entries, that made a very fine collection. In the winning group the boar was the chief animal in winning; the sows were good, but one was young and undersized as a trio. The reserve in this class contained two sows that were really of high quality and even, but the boar was not of the same class, and would not be expected to improve on the sows. I presumed that the donor's intention was to have the groups judged from the standpoint of "Which group would be expected to breed the best pigs if they were used to start a herd?"

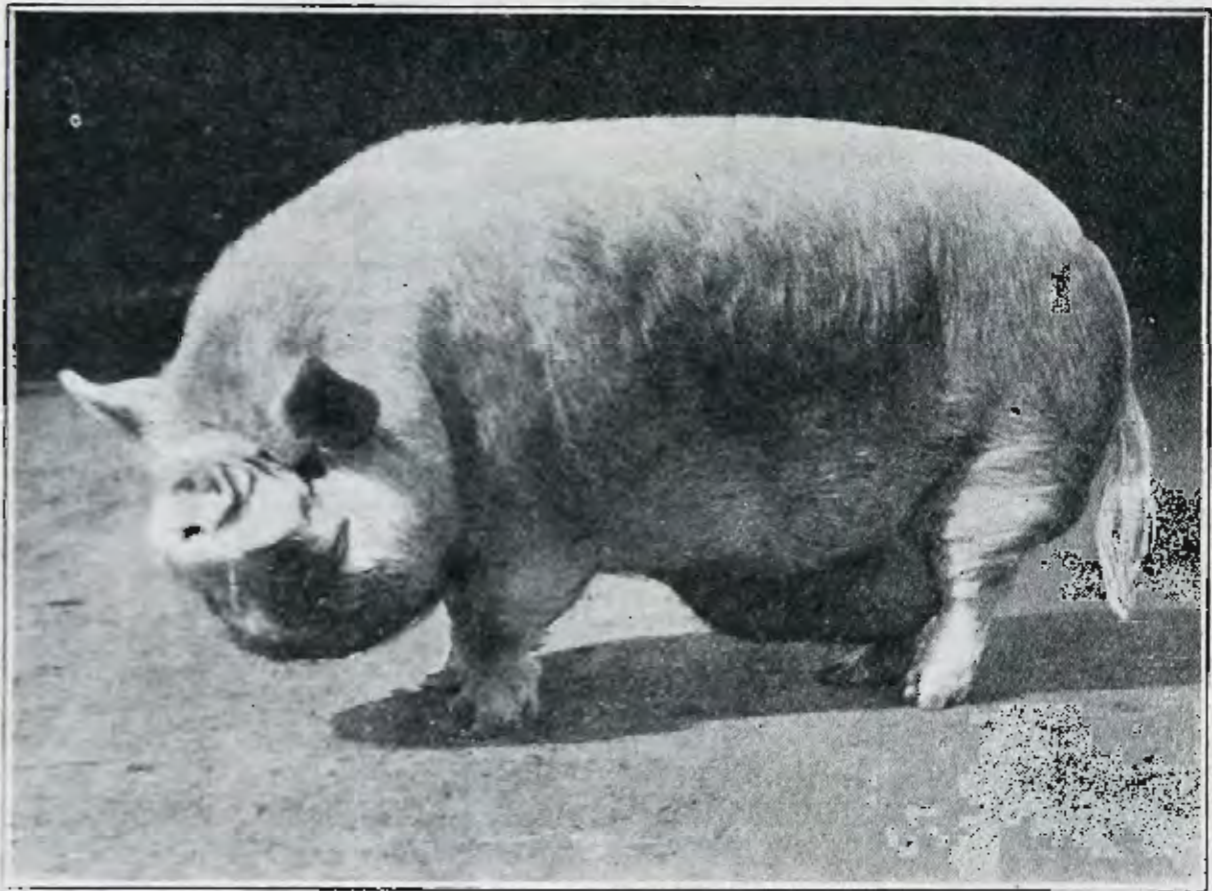

No entries were received for British Large Blacks. This is to be regretted, as importations have been made from England to Victoria this year, and this is the Show to exhibit them at if they are of good quality. The only Poland China boar had rather much white about the body.

YORKSHIRES.

J. Stewart, Trafalgar.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on pages 42 and 43.)

In the class for aged boars, the first prize pig stood right out in his class, also winning the championship. The second prize winner was a fair pig, but rather on the coarse side. The third prize winner was a good pig, but not up to the first two in quality. The balance of this class was hardly up to the standard of the "Royal," as seen in recent years. Boars under 15 months were, on the whole, a weak class. The winner was a very nice pig, but a bit wrinkly. This was his outstanding fault, but the second prize boar was a nice, even pig of good quality. The third prize winner was a splendid pig in body and type, but failing in feet and knees. The rest of this class was, on the whole, rather weak. Boars under 9 months provided a good class, first prize being awarded to a fine animal with great length and good quality, also showing a very typical head. Second prize was won by a very nice pig of good type and even quality. There was very little to choose between this pig and the one placed third. Several other nice pigs were shown in this class. Boars under 4 months were a very uneven class as to size. The first and second prize pigs were quite the youngest in the class, but of outstanding quality and thoroughly typical. The third prize pig was a very nice youngster also, and close up to winners of the higher prizes. Sows with litter proved to be a splendid lot right through. They had beautiful litters, both as to numbers and quality. The first prize sow was a very typical animal, with a beautiful even litter shown in tip-top order. Second prize exhibit comprised a very nice sow, just failing a little to the first sow, but the litter was also a very nice even lot. Third prize went to a great quality sow, equal to anything in the class, but two or three of the litter were not up to the type of the mother, nor quite so even as other winning litters.

There was a fine class of aged sows, showing great Yorkshire breeding. The first prize winner was a beautiful sow of wonderful quality, showing especially fine length. She was also exceptionally fine in the bone. Another sow of the same type secured second award. She was just a little coarser in the bone. This was practically the only difference between them. The third prize winner was very close up, but she had hardly the length of the others. Several other very fine sows in this class would have been winners at many shows. Sows under 15 months provided another typical class of large numbers and great quality. First prize was awarded to a very nice pig that won rather easily even in such a fine class. Second prize went to another good one, that failed to the winner in ears and length of body. The winner of the third prize was a very fine pig, very close up to the others. The sows under 9 months were of nice quality, but not so even as in the previous class. There was very little between the winners. There was, unfortunately, a bit of a "tail" in this class. The winning sow under 4 months proved to be one of the nicest young Yorkshires that has ever come under my notice, and one that, I am sure, will be again heard of. The second was another nice one, very little behind the winner. Third prize went to a nice quality pig, just a little coarser than the two placed above her. Large Yorkshires were few in numbers but contained one or two typical pigs, but hardly exhibited in Show condition. Tamworths were not a very large section. The winning aged boar was a splendid animal of great length and quality, and fit for any competition had he met it. There was only one aged sow, but she was of good quality. The young classes contained some fair pigs, but a number of them were rather out of condition.

POULTRY.

ORPINGTONS.

P. Fitzpatrick, Nilma, Gippsland.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 44).

The Black Orpingtons had strong classes, and the quality of the birds was well up to the standard. The Buff Orpingtons were also good classes, and the quality was high as regards type, size and colour, and the winners handled particularly well. The White Orpingtons were also very nice, the second prize birds running the winner very close. The Farmers' Trio class had some fine birds in Blacks, Whites and Buff, and some of the birds were soon claimed at the price stipulated in the catalogue. I consider the Poultry Section was a show in itself. There is such a splendid building, the management is so satisfactory, and the birds are looked after in a manner that leaves little, if anything, to be desired.

PIGEONS.

FANCY PIGEONS (PART II.).

G. Heath, Railway Parade, Glenhuntly.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 51).

The pigeons exhibited at the Melbourne Royal Show were the best I have seen. The pigeon pavilion, with its flags and other decorations, looked splendid. Everything was clean and tidy, and the pigeons appeared to be well cared for, and were shown to advantage in the neat white pens. The Pouters were good specimens of the breed. The Dragoons provided a fine display, and the winners, owned by Mr. Ireland, were of good quality. The Longfaced Tumblers were not numerous, but those shown would compare favourably with the best. The Longfaced Baldheads were well penned; Mr. Noble (the principal winner) had his pigeons in splendid condition. The Fantails looked well, especially the winning whites, owned by Mr. Meaker. These birds were of really high quality. The Show Homers comprised one of the best sections in the Show, particularly as regards quality. The winning young Show Homer, owned by Mr. J. J. Young, was the best young pigeon in my division, and was a competitor for the Best Young Bird in the Show, but was beaten in the final selection by a high class Black Jacobin, which was undoubtedly one of the best ever seen in Melbourne.

SADDLEBACKS.

G. Shee, 16 Nyora-street, East Malvern.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 52).

Owing to the perfect arrangements made by the Royal Society, the judging of the pigeons was a pleasure. The Saddlebacks this year showed a slight increase in entries, and the quality was fairly good. I was pleased to see the names of two new breeders on the prize cards, and I hope they will continue to breed this lovely variety of pigeon, and be successful in the Show pen with them. The winning Red Stripe Cock was a pigeon of good quality, with a nice head, stripe, and a clean rump. Red Stripe Hens were a weak class, and close together. Amongst the Black Stripe cocks, the winner was a fair pigeon, with a good colour, size and foot feather. The winning Black Stripe hen won in stripe, carriage, front and foot feather. The Black Spot cocks were a very poor lot; most of them were half stripes, and were deficient in feather. The winning Black Spot hen was a pigeon of good quality, with a nice head, eye, colour and foot feather, with the spot in the right position. The second bird had a good head, front and foot feather, but the spot was too far back and too big. A fine headed Blue Chequer, with a good stripe and foot feather, won first award in the Any Other Colour class. In the Any Other Spot, cock or hen, class, the winner was a Red of good size, head, eye, front and excellent in toe and foot feather. The red tail stripe cock that won first prize was a pigeon of good quality, grand colour, fine head and a good stripe. The first and second hens were close together, the winner excelling in colour and rump. The Red Tail Spot cock that secured first award was a nice pigeon in markings, but coarse in the head.

The hen which secured first and special was of good type, head, eye and spot in right position, and had good foot feather. In the class for any colour, Stripe or Spot, young cock or hen, the winning bird was easily the best Saddleback in the Show. I could not find a fault with this bird. The bird placed second was also a very nice pigeon, and the owner was unlucky to meet such a pigeon as the winner.

PRODUCE.

WHEAT.

A. E. V. Richardson, Department of Agriculture, Melbourne.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 61).

The samples of wheat exhibited in the Royal Agricultural Society's Show this year reflected very great credit on the exhibitors. With a few exceptions, the grain was remarkably good in quality and appearance. Some of the samples weighed over 67 lbs. to the bushel, and showed a gluten content exceeding 15 per cent., and were of unusually high strength.

The majority of the exhibits were subsequently acquired by the British Empire Exhibition Commission, and they will certainly be very representative of the best wheats that can be produced in the State. While the entries have been more numerous in previous years, the quality of the wheats exhibited was higher than usual.

No entries were received for the Macaroni or High Strength Red class. This, in a way, is not surprising, as these varieties are not grown to any extent in this State.

The largest number of entries was, as usual, received for the low strength class (other than Federation). Of the 13 entries in this class the winning exhibit was entry No. 5570, Mr. Angus Mactier, "Moira." The wheat, which was grown at Tatura, weighed 65½ lbs. per bushel, and contained 13.7 per cent. of gluten—a very satisfactory percentage for a wheat of this class. The sample was remarkably uniform and bright in appearance, of high bushel weight, strength and gluten content.

The accompanying table summarises the marks awarded to the various competitors.

Some fine samples of wheat were exhibited in the Federation class. The winning exhibit in this Section, entered by A. R. Michael, was of high quality, and averaged 65 lbs. per bushel.

In the High Strength White class, some remarkably good wheats were exhibited. Among these the winning exhibit, No. 5553, A. R. Michael, "Comeback," gave a bushel weight of 65.1 lbs., and contained no less than 15.2 per cent. of gluten—a remarkably high percentage for any wheat.

The strength was exceptionally high, the flour showing a water absorption capacity of 54 quarts of water per 200 lbs. sack of flour, compared with 44 quarts for the Victorian f.a.q. sample for the same season.

It is satisfactory to know that this high quality grain was produced in the Victorian Mallee.

The winner of this class also annexed the Champion Prize of Australia.

Third Prize, 5573 81.6 per cent.

Class 1058, Collection of Three Varieties of Wheat, brought forth six entries. Most of the grain exhibited in this class was of high quality.

First prize was awarded to Entry No. 5579, Mr. J. M. Jenkin, with a very fine collection of Moira, Federation and Gluyas wheat, grown at Watchupga. The rainfall during the growing period of the crop was very small—only 5.94 inches. This probably accounted for the very high gluten content of these three wheats, which averaged nearly 14 per cent. of gluten.

Second prize was awarded to No. 5577, Mr. A. R. Michael, with a collection of Hard Federation, Yandilla King and Bald Early, grown at Woomelang, on a rainfall of 7.41 inches during the growing period.

Entry No. 5580, Mr. W. Angus Mactier, of Tatura, won third prize with a collection of Federation, Minister and Moira. The rainfall during the growing period was 8 inches.

Several of the wheats in this section averaged over 67 lbs. per bushel.

The entries for the Sunshine Wheat competition were disappointing. In judging the sheaves, uniformity of ears, weight of grain in 10 representative ears, freedom of straw from disease, and general appearance, were the main factors taken into consideration.

First prize was awarded to Entry No. 5585, Mr. George W. Down, with a very fine sheaf of Minister wheat, grown at Uptopotpon.

Second prize was awarded to No. 5587, Mr. Arthur McDonald, with a sheaf of Major wheat, and third prize to the same competitor with a sheaf of Penny wheat.

Bennett Bros. submitted a fine looking sheaf of Major, but it was very variable as regards shape of ear, and it gave a lower weight of grain than other sheaves exhibited.

OATS, BARLEY AND PEAS.

W. H. McFarlane, Bacchus Marsh.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 61).

The quality of the oats, barley and peas was good, considering the season. The first prize Algerian Oats weighed 44½ lbs. per bushel, with other points in proportion. The Algerian Oats in the Soldiers' class is improving each year, and is very creditable. It would be a good thing if some way could be devised that these farmers could be assured that they were procuring the best seed. So much depends on the right type of seed that it would be of great advantage to all. English and Cape Barley were of high standard. I was pleased to note that more interest is now being taken in peas—Yorkshire Heroes being particularly good.

MAIZE.

James Fisher, Orbost.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 61).

There were few Maize exhibits, but, generally speaking, the quality was fair. Yellow Dent was represented by a close-grained variety, but depth of grain was somewhat lacking—probably due to the dry season. The Yellow Flint was shown in two varieties, one of which is commonly known as "Longfellow," the other being a crossbred; both were fairly good. The two exhibits of White Maize were good. Sweet Corn, which was shown on the cobs, was only fair, being rather deficient in size.

FARM PRODUCE (Except Cereals and Potatoes).

Hugh Pye, Agricultural College, Dookie.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 61).

In the Farm Produce classes judged by me the quality of the exhibits was generally very good, though in several instances the competition was confined to very few entries. The competition in the hay and chaff classes was keen, and the entries numerous. The quality of the flax fibre was excellent, as was also that of the mangels and silage. Considering the encouragement given by the Council of the Royal Agricultural Society to exhibitors of any worthy economic plant or plant product, it is more than probable that this is not generally known. Thus a prize of £5 is offered for a new farm product worthy of cultivation. Only one exhibitor competed. There is a good scope in Victoria for the growing of pure seed of vegetables and farm products generally; and, with the advent of small holdings, specialising in the production of pure seed has a promising future. The Royal Agricultural Society's Annual Show gives a fine opportunity for competitors to make the worth of their products generally known throughout the Commonwealth. The dry season during the early part of the year may account for the few entries in some of the classes.

TABLE VEGETABLES.

T. Marriott, McGuinness-road, Bentleigh.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 62).

The table vegetables that were exhibited were of high quality, but I was surprised that the growers did not take the opportunity of competing for the offer of the Society made for those who had not won a first prize in the collection class. If the Society can still see its way clear to keep this offer open, I think it will do good. The paucity of entries may be attributed to the fact that the season just passed through has been absolutely the worst ever experienced by metropolitan market gardeners. Dry weather, coupled with the ever-increasing number of pests, considerably militated against the successful production of Show exhibits. I would suggest that the class for rhubarb be divided into three—one for Marriott's Winter Rhubarb, the second for Stone's Ruby, and third for Spring Albert; and in carrots into two classes—one for Altringham and the other for Stump Root.

POTATOES.

G. Seymour, "Barton," 21 Elizabeth-street, Malvern.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 62).

The entries were not as numerous as at the previous Show, but the quality was of a high standard. In proof of this I need only refer to the Judge's book, which shows that a very large number of exhibits scored over 90 per cent. of the possible points, and in two instances the maximum number was obtained.

Another matter I would mention is the fact that one exhibitor scored ten first and one second prize with 11 entries. These results are due to the fact that the produce of this grower was of outstanding quality, and particularly well selected and graded for show purposes, coupled with the perfect system of point judging adopted by the Society.

There are five or six growers in this State who specialise in seed selection and the exhibition of tubers, and against these the ordinary grower, who stages for the first time, has very little chance of a place and seldom ever appears again at the Show. I would, therefore, suggest for consideration the advisability of providing in next schedule a class for exhibitors who have never won a prize at the Royal Show. This, I feel sure, would bring forward a number of exhibits from growers who otherwise would not stage. This could be done with but little, if any, increase in the already liberal prize list.

I would suggest that the prizes in Classes 1151 and 1154 be reduced to £1 and 10/-, and the amount saved be offered for exhibitors who had not previously won a prize at the Royal Show.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES' COMPETITION

(a) CEREALS, GRASSES, OTHER GRAINS AND SEEDS, FLOUR, MEALS, HAY, CHAFF AND SILAGE.

A. C. Drevermann, Longerenong Agricultural College, Doon.

I have pleasure in reporting that the exhibits of the two Societies competing were very creditable as a whole, and it is regretted that there were not more competitors. The scale of points for judging was, on the whole, satisfactory. In one case, that of Grasses, for which 15 points were allowed, there was some discussion as to the points awarded. In this particular case, a very fine collection of clovers was submitted by the Whittlesea Society, it being understood by their representative that Grasses included clovers. However, in awarding the points, I considered true grasses only, and understood that, since clovers were omitted from the list, they would be included in any pastoral or agricultural product not otherwise specified. On account of the importance of clovers to the grazier, I would suggest that clovers be added, and 15 points allotted. Only one Society exhibited silage, and the sample was not of the best quality. I think it would be a good plan for the Society to forward a list of items, together with the points to be allotted, to the different Agricultural Societies in the State, and especially draw their attention to this competition. By supplying details in full, it will give the members a chance to collect the exhibits in good time.

(b) DAIRY PRODUCE AND FOODS.

G. H. Deeley, Elliott-avenue, Murrumbena.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 63.)

The butter was of a high standard. The flavour and aroma was good, packing and finish was splendid, but in one case the colour was a little too high. Cheese was of a high standard; the colour and finish was splendid, but the flavour could have been a shade better. Bacon and hams were good, but there was plenty of room for improvement in flavour, smoking and finish. Milk, cream and eggs were all good.

(c) FRUITS, VEGETABLES AND ROOTS, Etc.

J. Milburn, The Grange, Keilor.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 63.)

The fresh fruit in the Whittlesea exhibit this year showed an improvement all round. It was very even in size and showed good quality. The fresh vegetables were equal to previous years in quality and size. This Society put up a wonderful exhibit of potatoes, considering the very adverse weather conditions during the growing period. The roots were a first-class lot, both in quality and appearance generally. The fresh fruit in the Sale exhibit was a little better than last year, the quality being better, and the condition of the fruit improved. The fresh vegetables did not show to advantage; the distance from Melbourne probably has something to do with it. The potatoes were well grown, but lacked variety. The roots were rather disappointing, and, like the potatoes, they lacked variety.

(d) PRESERVED FRUITS, JAMS, JELLIES, PICKLES AND SAUCES.

Miss A. Knight, c/o Department of Agriculture, Melbourne.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 63.)

The judging was based, firstly, on the assortment and general appearance of the whole collection of preserves; secondly, the quality, grading, etc., of the various packs; thirdly, colour, consistency, clearness and flavour of jellies and conserves; and fourthly, the quality and variety of distinct kinds of pickles, sauces, chutneys, etc.

For dried fruits and vegetables, the grading, quality, colour and method of packing were taken into consideration.

During the nine days of the Show there were a number of interested people anxious for information on this section of the District Exhibits. This information was supplied.

STATE SCHOOL COMPETITIONS.

(a) FODDER CROPS, GRAIN AND POTATOES.

J. H. Refshauge, Agricultural High School, Ballarat.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 63.)

The exhibits of fodder crops were all of excellent quality, although the entries were not as numerous as the competition deserved. Not only was the quality good, but they were attractively displayed and staged well. The exhibits of maize and millets were the best I have seen for many years. With the exception of maize, the grain exhibits were a distinct improvement upon those of previous years. In all cases, the grading had been carefully done. In the potato division, both the numbers of exhibits and their quality suffered by comparison with those of previous years. This, no doubt, was due to the adverse season from January to May, when little rain of value fell.

(c) FORAGE AND ROOTS, GRASSES, CLOVER, HONEY AND FLAX.

W. F. Friday, Agricultural High School, Sale.

The specimens of forage and roots were, on the whole, fairly good, but were hardly as numerous as on previous occasions. In many cases the specimens were not correctly named, and the method of cultivation was not always given. For example, a globe mangel was entered in the long mangel class, and several of the exhibits in the sugar beet class were not true sugar beet at all. Exhibitors are advised to give the names of the particular variety of sugar beet exhibited.

Many exhibits of grasses and clovers were very fine indeed, especially the ordinary grasses. Many specimens were about 5ft. high. Most of the exhibits were very well preserved. For the first time for several years prizes were awarded for native grasses. The Heart School, near Sale, secured first and second prizes. The specimens were excellent, and they were all correctly named. Other teachers could easily follow the example set by this enthusiastic exhibitor, Mr. Teesdale. The flax exhibits were very poor. In no case were the conditions governing the exhibition of products fully carried out. In the classes for honey the specimens exhibited were excellent. In some cases there was little difference in colour or quality. The exhibits were well shown, and the exhibitors showed that they have little to learn in the practice of producing honey and bees-wax of the very highest quality. Generally speaking, the standard was as good as that of last year, except in the cases indicated, but, exclusive of grasses and honey, the exhibits were not so numerous. The present good season should ensure a change in this respect at the next Royal Show.

CHEESE.

G. C. Sawers, c/o Department of Agriculture, Live Stock Division, Melbourne.

Entries were less numerous in the Cheese classes at the recent Royal Show than last year. I presume the fault was due to the autumn being so dry in the western and north-eastern parts of the State, and when the rains came it was too late, owing to the weather getting too cold and preventing the growth of grass; several dairymen converting their own milk into cheese, and supplying factories, dried their cows off, they being too low in condition.

In the class, Cheese over six months old, the flavours as a whole were not too clean, the highest scoring $92\frac{1}{2}$ points, and the lowest $89\frac{1}{2}$ points. Every lot showed weakness in body, due to retaining too much moisture in the curd, in the whey, or what is termed insufficient cooking of the curd. In this class of cheese, the solids start to break down rapidly and the flavours become unclean, rancid and bitter.

In the class for Cheese under four months old, the flavours were generally fairly clean, and, with the exception of the prize lots, they were a shade weak in body, but the finish was excellent, the highest scoring $94\frac{1}{2}$ points, and the lowest 91 points.

The flavours, as a whole, in the class for Cheese suitable for export under three months old were clean, bodies and textures firm and close. The champion lot possessed a very clean and sweet nutty flavour, with firm body and close sitting texture, and, in my opinion, was three points ahead of any other cheese, the highest scoring being 96 points and the lowest $91\frac{1}{2}$ points. The makes and finishes were the best I have ever examined at this Show.

Loaf cheeses compared favourably with those of previous years. Although the prize lots were clean in flavours, some others were not too clean; but make and finish were good, the highest scoring $94\frac{1}{2}$ points and the lowest 91 points.

BUTTER.

P. J. Carroll, Department of Trade and Customs, Rialto, Collins-street, Melbourne.

I regret that the Section of which I was entrusted with the judging is not more representative of the butter industry. I cannot understand factory managers' indifference to competitions of this nature, and although representation has been made to them at different times, and new exhibitors obtained, the gain seems to be more than counterbalanced by old exhibitors falling out.

I can say, however, that the exhibits generally were of a very high standard of quality, with, of course, the usual few exceptions. There is a marked improvement in the manufacture and preparation of the butters, as compared with those competing some years ago. The Council will be pleased, no doubt, to know that this improvement extends to the butters coming forward for export, and, notwithstanding the poor representation at the Show, the educational value of the competition is being reflected generally in the butter manufactured.

BACON, HAM, LARD AND EGGS.

T. T. Main, 143 Church-street, Parramatta, Sydney, N.S.W.

The hams and bacon were very good as to quality, and in the Farm Section a great improvement was shown, the winner in hams being only two points below the champion exhibit. The number of exhibits was disappointing. I think a farmer should be allowed to compete in any class. Had it been so this time, he would have secured second prize. It would be a good idea to create a novice class, open to all who had not won a first or second prize in the open class. In the lard exhibit the same thing happened at the Melbourne Show as at Sydney. The exhibitor who won in hams and bacon had to take second place for lard. I think two sides, two flitches and two hams are sufficient for each entry, and one of each to be cut and the quality of the other side, flitch and ham should be taken into consideration by the Judge. The exhibitor should be very careful that his exhibits are uniform in quality and get up, and should study every detail if he wishes to win. I would suggest to the farmer that the best class of pig for the bacon curer is the Tamworth and Berkshire cross. My reason is that the provision merchant is looking for a long and broad middle that is nice and streaky. Other breeds, in many cases, run to too much fat. If hams are required for Christmas trade or for exhibition purposes, Middle Yorkshire or Berkshire are best. If I were buying a pig to cure for myself, the chief points would be length of body, depth, straight back, round hind quarter, cushion well down to hock, forequarter fine as possible, head and neck short. The latter points are not so important as the former, the reason is that commercially they are of little value. My contention is that the farmer has to study the requirements of the bacon curer, the curer the provision merchant, and the latter the public.

WINES (Growers' Classes).

A. Cullen, The Tuilleries, Wahgunyah.

The exhibits in the class for light dry red wines were rather poor, but in all of the other classes young wines of satisfactory standard were shown. There was, however, rather too much colour in several of the samples in the sweet red class.

WINES (Open Classes).

W. W. Senior, c/o Matthew Lang & Co., 57 Market-street, Melbourne;

C. W. Simmonds, c/o John Connell & Co., Bourke-street, Melbourne;

T. C. Seabrook, 47 Queen-street, Melbourne.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 65).

The wine exhibition this year was quite equal to the standard of previous years, and the large attendance of merchants and growers, representative of all wine producing districts in the State, was evidence of the educational value attached to the Show by those practically interested in the trade.

Dealing with the exhibits as a whole, they may be criticised as being too robust in comparison with their European prototypes, but this is a general characteristic of Australian wines.

Many elegant wines were again exhibited in the Hock and Chablis classes, and the Clarets did not suffer in comparison with other years.

Ports were up to the pitch looked for at this Show. It was a satisfactory feature that, while the Yalumba wines were again successful in obtaining the first prizes, some of the subordinate positions were taken by exhibitors who had not previously scored in the Port classes.

The Sparkling wines showed excellence and finish, and quite justified the demand existing for these wines. Unfortunately, there is only one class for sparkling wine, and the judges wish to record a recommendation that, at future shows, there should be separate classes for Sparkling White and Sparkling Red.

The spirits made an interesting exhibit, and the quality of the Brandy, Whisky and Gin was probably finer than in recent years.

The Federal Viticultural Society is taking advantage of the Empire Exhibition of 1924 to bring the finer types under the notice of the British public, and, it is hoped, it may be the means of creating a demand for Australian light dry wines, both white and red, and also for the higher grades of the sweet varieties.

APPLES.

J. W. Bailey, Narre Warren.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 67.)

I consider the displays of fruit highly creditable to the exhibitors who staged them. I think a number of the exhibits were as near perfect as it is possible to grow fruit. The pyramids made a very fine display, and fully justified the time and expense incurred by the Cool Stores' Associations in staging such a splendid display of stored fruit.

I would suggest that, in future, the judge be given an opportunity of judging the fruit before it is staged on the pyramids, as I found it almost impossible to handle the fruit sufficiently under present conditions.

PEARS.

E. Lawford, Doncaster.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 67.)

I would suggest that plural entry in the fruit classes be disallowed. Under plural entry, an exhibitor who can win first prize can almost automatically win second and third, also thereby greatly discouraging competition; secondly, that the pear "Josephine" be placed on the prize list. If it is not desired to increase the list, the pear "Keiffer" might be cut out, as it is much inferior to "Josephine"; thirdly, that the fruit tables be made more interesting and intelligible to ordinary visitors by class name cards being provided, and divisions between classes being made more conspicuous.

CITRUS FRUITS.

S. A. Cock, 80-81 Helens-road, Upper Hawthorn.

Generally speaking, the citrus exhibits were most creditable, and a great advance on those of the preceding show. In the Washington Navel class, there was good competition, there being 11 entries. Points for exhibits ranged from 68 to 90 out of a possible 100. In this section many exhibitors lost points for exhibiting Thompson's Improved and Navelencias for Washington Navel. In the common orange class, there were six entries, the winning variety, Mediterranean Sweet, being a perfect specimen of that variety. In this class a lot of confusion arises through wrong naming, and I would like to suggest that this class be reduced to three oranges of which the type is distinct, and another class for "Ordinary Seed Type Oranges" included. Late Valencia had six entries, and the exhibits were excellent. Mandarins had five entries, but the exhibits were poor. I would suggest making one class for Emperor Mandarins only, and another for any Mandarin other than Emperor. There were only four entries in the lemon class. Competition could have been much better. Only one entry of grape fruit was submitted. This is accounted for by reason of the heavy rains in the north causing the fruit to fall prematurely. The District Exhibits were excellent, and being the first year of such an exhibit, many made mistakes in the number of fruit displayed. There were eight entries, and six completely staged their exhibits. I am of opinion that the district exhibit will become very popular, and if a shield for competition could be added, as in the apple and pear section the additional prize would be much sought after.

DRIED FRUITS.

R. A. Christian, Arnold House, 14 Queen-street, Melbourne.

I was disappointed to find only two exhibits of dried fruit, viz., one 5lb. box of dried peaches and one 5lb. box of dried prunes. In my opinion, there should be more competition, and no prize awarded unless there are three exhibits in any class. I should also stipulate that all dried fruits be in 28lb. boxes only, which should become the property of the R.A.S. of Victoria. Next year I hope to interest growers of currants, sultanas, lemons, prunes, peaches and apricots, so that the dried fruit section will be worthy of a place, and at the same time, of interest to the public visiting the Show.

WOMEN'S INDUSTRIES.

PLAIN-NEEDLEWORK.

Mrs. Harvey Smith, Upper Beaconsfield.

"If it is worth doing, let me do it well," seemed to be the motto of most of the exhibitors in the Plain Needlework section at the last Show. Each year I have noticed a vast improvement in the workmanship of the exhibits. Plain sewing deserves the greatest praise. The article which took first prize was really excellent. Machine sewing was also very neat. The home dressmaker did very good work in coats and skirts. Millinery showed a great improvement. Boys' suits showed a proficiency beyond the ordinary amateur. Trousseau sets were very dainty and nicely designed. Amongst the jumpers in silk and wool were some pretty designs, and a great variety in colours. Nearly all the socks were good, and the making of the awards was most difficult. This remark applies also to many other exhibits. I am afraid there must have been disappointments, but with so many competitors all cannot be prize winners. These competitors should not be discouraged, but should try again next year.

FANCY NEEDLEWORK.

Miss Ottilie Voullaire, 481 Punt-road, South Yarra.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 69.)

Not having had the honour of judging at the Royal Show before, I cannot compare this year's exhibits with those of previous years, but can only give my own personal opinion.

It has ever been my regret that there is in Australia so little variety in coloured embroideries, though those gaining the prizes in this Show were well done. The white embroideries, which, by the way, really need a great deal more practice than the coloured embroideries, are, on the whole, very good, especially the eyelet work. Richelieu work, which was most beautifully done, was spoilt, in the majority of cases, by the wrong method of working. Many competitors buttonholed the connecting bars of the pattern as they progressed with the scalloping. This is one of the gravest faults that can be, and is so often made in Richelieu work. The result will be found after the article has been washed several times, for the bar work will inevitably break away. The point laces and other laces were of exceptionally high standard. The crochet work in which Australians seem to excel, was very beautiful, the only pity being (as is also the case with other work) the marked repetition of design. The first prize winner of the afternoon tea cloth, however, made with the little bells a welcome exception to the rule by the originality of her design. The novelty pincushion, representing the motto of the Royal Agricultural Society, "Speed the Plough," gained a fully deserved first prize.

Seeing that there are no schools for art needlework here, and thus Australians as yet have had so little opportunity of learning the technical points of the work (what they have learnt is just picked up, and in many cases picked up wrongly). I consider that, on the whole, the exhibition of fancy needlework was good, though I should like to see a great deal more competition from such a population as that of Victoria. I am confident, however, that this section will go ahead, and I say to all exhibitors, "Do your best; don't be afraid to show what Australian women can do with the needle; and all the more honour to you who have not had the opportunities your European sisters have had."

ARTS AND CRAFTS.

Miss Tronson, 69 Drummond-street, Carlton.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 70.)

On the whole, the work in the Arts and Crafts Section was up to previous standards, although there were not quite so many exhibitors in some classes which have previously been well patronised. I would like to have seen more work shown in the Black and White—Fashion Plate, Designs for Table Cover and Doyleys, and Show Poster—as they are some of the principal branches in the commercial art of to-day. There were several curtains exhibited in stencil work. I would like exhibitors to take note that, in entering for stencilling, they must not combine pen painting with it. I was pleased to see more entries in poker work on leather, and would like exhibitors to try some original designs. There was only one exhibit of raffia basket and raffia hat which were of good quality. As a rule, in that class there are more exhibitors, and, of course, keener competition.

There were several exhibits of hand-spun yarn of good quality, which shows that our country women take an interest in our own productions. A very fine hand-woven rug was exhibited, both the colouring and execution of which was excellent. I would like to see more exhibits sent from our country districts in the various classes of craft work. There were many exhibits of pen painting, also painting on silk and muslin.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 71.)

FOODS.

Miss F. Pell, 98 Wellington-street, St. Kilda.

The number of entries was a record this year. The stewards gave great assistance by having food stuffs well set out and in good sequence. The cakes, after being judged and put in the glass cases set out for them, made a fine display. The jams were of very high standard in the main. They were very free from any spurious agencies—good fruits and sugar being used to give the colour and flavour. The bottled fruits also would be a credit to any show in any part of the world.

After much consideration I would not recommend the cutting out of the plum pudding, as, although they certainly do look pretty solid when cold, are, I think, almost universal with us as a Christmas dinner dish, and are amongst the popular entries.

SHEEP DOG TRIALS.

J. Moses, c/o Captain A. E. T. Payne, Yarraview, Lilydale.

(Complete awards in this Section will be found on page 75)

The Sheep Dog Trials were followed with much interest by the public. At the same time, they were not the success they ought to be, owing to so many dogs failing to complete the course set out, or to put up a creditable performance. This was partly due to the awkwardness of the sheep, which, after the first two days, became almost unmanageable.

If it were feasible, I would suggest that only a sufficient number of sheep be brought on to the Showground for the "Vallo" Trial; then an entirely new lot brought in for the Open Trial at the end of the second day or early in the morning of the third day. The course might also be altered a little, so as to do away with sheep having to be forced through a "race" facing the main grandstand—a stumbling block to the majority of dogs.

As the spectators delight in seeing a good dog complete his task, it is advisable to have the obstacles somewhat easier to negotiate in the time allowed, especially as these trials are more of an arena attraction than a test of a working sheep dog.
